Safety Assessment and Intervention

Safety Assessment and Intervention (SAI) is the threat assessment program offered by Sandy Hook Promise Foundation. SAI is based on the Virginia Student Threat Assessment Guidelines developed by Professor Dewey Cornell and colleagues at the University of Virginia in 2001. The Virginia Student Threat Assessment Guidelines is the only threat assessment model recognized as an evidence-based practice by the National Registry of Evidence-Based Programs and Practices (NREPP).

What is Threat Assessment?

Threat assessment is a problem-solving approach to violence prevention that involves assessment and intervention with students who have threatened violence in some way.

Slides by Dewey Cornell, Ph.D.
Workshop participants may copy this handout for others in their school system.
Threat Assessment is a violence prevention strategy.

1. Family members, friends, or others seek help when concerned about someone in distress or who is threatening violence.
2. The threat assessment team evaluates the seriousness of the threat.
3. The team initiates assistance to address the underlying problem, conflict or need. In the most serious cases, protective action is taken.

Prevention means “to keep something from happening”

Crisis response is not prevention.

A crisis occurs when prevention has failed.

Prevention must start before the gunman is at your door.

Prevention must start before the gunman is at your door.
Prevention must start before the gunman is at your door.

Shootings seem unpredictable, but,
Prevention does not require prediction!

Three Tiers of Prevention in Schools

I Schoolwide Prevention

II At-Risk Students

III Intensive Interventions

Prevention can reduce risk factors.

We cannot predict who will get cancer, but we can identify risk and protective factors that reduce cancer rates dramatically.

Selected, secondary, or tier 2 prevention

Prevention does not require prediction.

We cannot predict who will have an accident, but safety regulations make safer roads, cars, and drivers.

Universal, primary, or tier 1 prevention

Prevention can prevent deterioration.

We can intervene to resolve crisis situations before they deteriorate into violence.

Intensive, tertiary, or tier 3 prevention

Safety Assessment and Intervention (SAI) based on Comprehensive School Threat Assessment Guidelines

Threat assessment is part of a comprehensive approach

- Intensive monitoring and supervision
- Crisis management
- Community-based strategy
- Alternative school placements
- Student's educational evaluation and services

At-Risk Students
- Students with poor attendance
- Students with poor behavior
- Students who have been suspended
- Students with severe learning problems
- Students with significant emotional and behavioral difficulties

Schoolwide Prevention
- All students

Brief Team Exercise

1. Recall a recent case when a student made a threat of violence that was clearly not serious – the student did not intend to carry out the threat. How did school authorities respond to this student?

2. Recall another case when a student made a threat that was serious – the student did intend to carry out the threat (and perhaps did attempt to carry out the threat). How did school authorities respond to this student?

3. How could a threat assessment team distinguish the two types of threat cases? How did you know one was not serious and the other was serious?

Fear is a barrier to prevention.

School shootings are so traumatic that they skew perceptions of school safety and convince the public and policymakers that there are dramatic needs for security measures.

Annual Gun Toll

- 33,000 deaths
- 67,000 injuries
- 100,000 total
- 275 Shootings per day

Shooting deaths from: National Vital Statistics

We need both recovery from trauma and a factual analysis of the best way to prevent more shootings.

Why the Fear of School Violence Matters

1. School Suspensions
2. School Fortification

Zero Tolerance Suspending

The Expansion of Zero Tolerance

From No Guns to
- No Toy Guns
- No Nail clippers
- No Plastic utensils
- No Finger-pointing
- No Jokes
- No Drawings
- No Rubber band shooting
No Accidental violations

Zero tolerance is not effective.
Suspension associated with poorer outcomes for students.
Texas Study of School Discipline

60% suspended or expelled

Suspension Practices

Suspension is a practice that has more negative than positive effects on students:
- Fall behind in their classes
- Feel alienated and rejected
- Continue to misbehave and be suspended
- Drop out of school
- Juvenile court involvement

Extra security in Hillsborough schools would cost $4 million
School security measures are expensive and deprive schools of resources that could be allocated to preventive measures such as anti-bullying programs and counseling services.

Armed guards in every Minn. school would cost $136 million
NRA proposal would cost state schools about $138 million.

We should prevent shootings rather than simply prepare for them.

There are opportunities for prevention years before the shooting starts and leading up to the day it happens.

Three girls were killed when MICHAEL CARNESAL, 14, opened fire on a prayer meeting that had been assembled in school just before the start of classes. He had warned a classmate that "something big" would happen. When a friend pushed him to a wall to stop the rampage, Carneal said, "Kill me, please. I can't believe I did that." He faces trial as an adult.
A 22-cal. Ruger pistol was used.

Snitch: blabbermouth, canary, fink, narc, rat, sneak, squealer, stoolie, stoolpigeon, tattletale, etc.

Snitching: informing on someone for personal gain
Seeking help: attempting to stop someone from being hurt

FBI Recommendations on School Violence

"One response to the pressure for action may be an effort to identify the next shooter by developing a "profile" of the typical school shooter. This may sound like a reasonable preventive measure, but in practice, trying to draw up a catalogue or "checklist" of warning signs to detect a potential school shooter can be shortsighted, even dangerous. Such lists, publicized by the media, can end up unfairly labeling many nonviolent students as potentially dangerous or even lethal. In fact, a great many adolescents who will never commit violent acts will show some of the behaviors or personality traits included on the list." (FBI, report pp 2-3)

FBI Recommendations on School Violence

"Although the risk of an actual shooting incident at any one school is very low, threats of violence are potentially a problem at any school. Once a threat is made, having a fair, rational, and standardized method of evaluating and responding to threats is critically important." (FBI report p 1)
Secret Service/DOE Recommendations:
- Create a planning team to develop a threat assessment program.
- Identify roles for school personnel.
- Clarify role of law enforcement.
- Conduct threat assessments of students who make threats of violence.

Threat Assessment
1. Identification of threats made by students.
2. Evaluation of seriousness of threat and danger it poses to others, recognizing that all threats are not the same (e.g., toy guns are not dangerous).
3. Intervention to reduce risk of violence.
4. Follow-up to assess intervention results.

6 Principles of the Threat Assessment Process
(abridged from Secret Service/DOE Guide)
1. Targeted violence is the result of an understandable process, not a random or spontaneous act.
2. Consider person, situation, setting, & target.
3. Maintain an investigative, skeptical mindset.
4. Focus on facts and behaviors, not traits.
5. Use information from all possible sources.
6. Making a threat is not the same as posing a threat. Ask "Is this student on a path toward an attack?"

Accurate Threat Assessment Avoids 2 Errors ...
1. Over-reaction

What is a threat?

A threat is an expression of intent to harm someone.

Threats may be spoken, written, or gestured.

Threats may be direct or indirect, and need not be communicated to the intended victim or victims. ("I'm going to get him.")

Weapon possession is presumed to be a threat unless circumstances clearly indicate otherwise. ("I forgot my knife was in my backpack.")

When in doubt, assume it is a threat.

Key Point

A primary goal of threat assessment is to prevent violence.

Continuum of Threats
- Warning of impending violence
- Attempts to intimidate or frighten
- Thrill of causing a disruption
- Attention-seeking, boasting
- Fleeting expressions of anger
- Jokes
- Figures of speech

Aggression at School
- Rarely
- Weekly
- Daily

Bullying

Arguments

No Magic Formula or Crystal Ball

There is no formula, prescription, or checklist that will predict or prevent all violent acts. School authorities must make reasoned judgments based on the facts of each individual situation, and monitor situations over time.

Safety Assessment and Intervention (SAI) based on Comprehensive School Threat Assessment Guidelines

December 2018

Slides by Dewey Cornell, Ph.D.
Workshop participants may copy this handout for others in their school system.
Step 1. Evaluate the threat.

- Obtain an account of the threat and the context from the student and witnesses.
- Write down the exact threat.
- Obtain student’s explanation of the threat’s meaning and his/her intentions.
- Obtain witness perceptions of the threat’s meaning.

Document your evaluation.

Typical Questions

1. Do you know why I wanted to talk to you?
2. What happened today when you were [place of incident]?
3. What exactly did you say and do?
4. What did you mean when you said/did that?
5. How do you think [person threatened] feels about what you said?
6. What was the reason you said that?
7. What are you going to do now?

Witness Questions

1. What happened today when you were [place of incident]?
2. What exactly did [student who made threat] say and do?
3. What do you think he/she meant?
4. How do you feel about what he/she said?
5. Why did he/she say that?

All threats are not the same.

“I could just kill you for that!” (laughing)
“I’m gonna kick your butt.”
“There’s a bomb in the school.”
“Wait until I get my gun!”
“Let’s really make them pay for what they did.”

Context matters...

Step 2. Attempt to Resolve the Threat as Transient

- The critical issue is not what the student threatened to do, but whether the student intends to carry out the threat.
- When in doubt, treat a threat as substantive.

Transient versus substantive threats

Substantive Threats

Transient Threats
Transient threats

- Often are rhetorical remarks, not genuine expressions of intent to harm.
- At worst, express temporary feelings of anger or frustration.
- Usually can be resolved on the scene or in the office.
- After resolution, the threat no longer exists.
- Usually end with an apology or clarification.

Substantive threats

- Express intent to physically injure someone beyond the immediate situation.
- There is at least some risk the student will carry out the threat.
- Require that you take protective action, including warning intended victims and parents.
- May be legal violations and require police consultation.
- When in doubt, treat threats as substantive.

Substantive threats: Factors to consider

- Age of student
- Capability of student to carry out the threat
- Student’s discipline history
- Credibility of student and willingness to acknowledge his or her behavior
- Credibility of witness accounts
- When in doubt, treat threats as substantive.

Presumptive indicators of substantive threats

- Specific, plausible details. ("I am going to blast Mr. Johnson with my pistol.")
- Threat has been repeated over time. ("He’s been telling everyone he is going to get you.")
- Threat reported as a plan ("Wait until you see what happens next Tuesday in the library.")
- Accomplishes or recruitment of accomplices or an audience.
- Physical evidence of intent (written plans, lists of victims, bomb materials, etc.)

Case examples: Transient or substantive threat?

1. Two elementary students throw paper wads pretending to bomb one another.
2. Two middle school students get into a shoving match. One says, "I'm gonna bust you up."
3. A boy turns in an English essay that describes an especially violent scene from a war.
4. Two students get into a fight. After they are separated, both are sullen and quiet.
5. A student says he is being bullied. He was warned that if he told anyone, they would beat him up.

Interview Exercise

1. Use the interview form at the back of the handouts.
2. One member of each team will interview a student who has made a threat.
3. One team member will volunteer to play the student role.
4. Use the interview as a guide, use follow-up questions as needed.
Interview Exercise

Two students reported to a teacher that a student in the cafeteria said that he is going to become a serial killer. The students are worried that he plans an attack on the school. You pull the student out of class and interview him in your office.

Who made substantive threats?

Step 3. Respond to a substantive threat.

(a) Take immediate precautions to protect potential victims. May consult with law enforcement.
(b) Warn intended victim and victim's parents.
(c) Look for ways to resolve conflict.
(d) Discipline student, when time is appropriate. Add services as needed.

Who made transient threats?

Step 3. Serious or very serious substantive threat?

- Serious means a threat to hit or fight
- Very serious means a threat to kill, rape, shoot, or injure with a weapon.

Slides by Dewey Cornell, Ph.D.
Workshop participants may copy this handout for others in their school system.
Very serious cases are relatively rare

Substantive Threats

Transient Threats

How many student threats?

15 (8%) Very serious
42 (22%) Serious
131 (70%) Transient

188 Total threats reported
16,434 Students

Step 4.
Conduct a Safety Evaluation for a Very Serious Substantive Threat.

In addition to a-d at Step 3, suspend student and while doing the following:

- Screen for mental health services
- Law enforcement investigation
- Develop safety plan that reduces risk

Mental Health Assessment

- Not a prediction model.
- Identify any mental health needs.
- Identify reasons why threat was made.
- Propose strategies for reducing risk.
Our mental health assessments are not designed to PREDICT violence, but to find ways to PREVENT violence.

Mental Health Assessment

- Who – school staff mental health professional
- When – as soon as possible after a very serious threat
- How – Modify questions as clinically appropriate, use as much existing information as possible, concentrate on risk of violence

Sources of information for mental health assessment

Team members will interview:
- Student
- Intended victim/witnesses
- Student’s parent
- School staff who know student (including SRO, school counselor, teachers)
- Outside professionals who know student

Student Interview

- Review of threat and relationship with victim
- Stress and situational factors, family support
- Mental health symptoms (depression, psychosis, severe anxiety, or suicidality)
- Access to firearms
- Previous aggressive and delinquent behavior, exposure to violence
- Peer relations and social adjustment
- Coping and strengths
- Bullying and victimization experiences

Beginning the student interview

- “Do you know why I wanted to meet with you today?”
- Explain purpose of interview to understand what happened, why it happened, and what should be done to resolve the problem.
- Information will be shared with school staff who will be deciding what to do about the problem. No promise of confidentiality.
- This is the student’s opportunity to tell his/her side of the story and have a voice in what is decided.

Reviewed 221 studies of diverse school-based violence prevention programs

Average effect size = .25 for demonstration programs, which would reduce fighting 50% in a typical school
Parent interview

- Parent knowledge of threat
- Current stressors, family relations, childhood history
- Recent behavior and mental health
- School adjustment
- Peer relations and bullying
- History of aggressive and delinquent behavior, exposure to violence, access to weapons
- Willingness to assist in a safety plan
- Parent attitude toward school and law enforcement

Behavior Intervention Plan

For use with:
- IEP
- 504 plan
- Any student

Forms available online

Law Enforcement Investigation of Very Serious Substantive Threats

- Interview suspects and witnesses.
- Conduct searches for weapons and other evidence of planning.
- Serve as a resource for students with fears or information to share.
- Take appropriate protective action.

Step 5. Implement and Monitor Safety Plan.

- Plan is designed to reduce risk of violence and meet student needs.
- Document the plan.
- Maintain contact with student.
- Monitor whether plan is working and revise as needed.
Hit List Threat Report

- 2 boys tell you that 8th grade John said he had a list with them and his former girlfriend on it.
- What do you do next?

Typical Threat 1

- An angry student says "I'm gonna kill you" to a classmate.
- What do you do?

Typical Threat 1

- On interview, the student says he has no plans to harm the classmate and that he just lost his temper. He offers to apologize.
- What kind of threat?

Typical Threat 2

- A student tells a friend that he is going to beat up Joe in the back parking lot after school today. The friend tells you.
- What do you do?

Typical Threat 2

- On interview, the student denies making such a statement. He says that what he does after school is his own business.
- What kind of threat?

Typical Threat 3

- A student sends an email threatening to "blow away the preps" at school. When interviewed, the boy says he has a right to free speech. He has a history of discipline problems and students say they are worried.
- What kind of threat?
- What do you do?
Typical Threat 3

- A student sends an email threatening to "blow away the preps" at school. When interviewed, the boy says he has a right to free speech. He has a history of discipline problems and students say they are worried.
- This threat is substantive because it cannot be easily resolved. It is very serious because it involves a threat to kill.

- Charged with murder of a 14-year-old girl
- Bludgeoned

3 Pathways to Violent Behavior

3 Pathways to Violent Behavior:

- Psychotic Path
- Antisocial Path
- Conflict Path

Violence

Look for patterns, not a single profile.

Conflicted youth – reactive anger
Antisocial youth -- instrumental crime
Psychotic youth – delusional motive

Conflicted youth

- Reactive violence of victims
- Over-controlled hostility
- Few previous overt behavior problems
- Over-sensitive to shame
- Intense need for approval, status
- Suicidality

Bullying motivated many of the school shootings

Antisocial Youth

- Instrumental crimes
- Under-controlled aggression
- Antisocial peers
- Delinquent history
- Early childhood problems
- School discipline history

Psychotic Youth

- Delusional motive
- Auditory hallucinations
- Substance abuse
- Resentment over mistreatment
- Alienation from peers
- Odd behaviors

Reductions in Long-Term Suspensions Following Adoption of the Virginia Student Threat Assessment Guidelines

Dewey G. Cornell¹, Anne Gregory², and Xitao Fan³

Abstract

This quasi-experimental study examined the adoption of the Virginia Student Threat Assessment Guidelines in 23 high schools. After training, school administrators and other staff members demonstrated substantial increases in knowledge of threat assessment principles and decreased commitment to zero-tolerance approaches. Schools using the guidelines showed a 32% reduction in long-term suspensions and a 79% reduction in helping incidents from the preceding year to the posttraining year in contrast to a control group of 16 schools not using the guidelines.

Virginia Student Threat Assessment Guidelines

The Virginia Student Threat Assessment Guidelines (VTAG) is a school-based multi-tiered process designed to help school staffs identify and manage high-risk students who may be presenting a potential threat to themselves or others. The guidelines are intended to help schools develop and implement effective strategies to address the needs of students who may be at risk for engaging in violent or self-destructive behavior.

Liability Protection

- Follow recognized standards.
- Make reasonable decisions.
  (Perfection is not required.)
- Maintain adequate documentation.
  (Post hoc records are inadequate.)

Widely Used Model

Safety Versus Confidentiality

Why should you warn persons who have been threatened?
Tarasoff
The Duty to Protect Potential Victims of Violence
1. College student tells his therapist that he will kill Tanya Tarasoff because she spurned his advances.
2. Therapist contacts police, who interview student and let him go.
3. Therapist is admonished for breaking confidentiality.
4. Several months later (1968) the student stabs Tanya Tarasoff to death.
5. Student found guilty of murder.
6. Tarasoff family sues the University, the police department, and the therapist. Case goes to the California Supreme Court.

Tarasoff v Regents of University of California, 1974, 1976

Ohio Duty to Protect
ORC §2305.51
- Applies to mental health professionals
- Explicit threat of inflicting imminent and serious physical harm.... believe person has intent and ability to carry out the threat
- Possible actions:
  - Hospitalize
  - Treatment plan
  - Communicate to law enforcement and if feasible, victim or parent
- Share nature of threat, identity of person making threat, identity of potential victims

Confidentiality Versus Prevention of Violence

Communication and Problem Solving
Threat assessment is a problem-solving approach that requires communication and cooperation among all parties. This process must not be hindered by FERPA.

Released Oct 30 2007
Safety Assessment and Intervention (SAI) based on Comprehensive School Threat Assessment Guidelines

What can school officials disclose in an emergency situation?

"In an emergency, FERPA permits school officials to disclose, without consent, education records, including personally identifiable information from those records, to protect the health or safety of students or other individuals."

Can school officials share their observations of students?

"FERPA does not prohibit a school official from disclosing information about a student if the information is obtained through the school official's personal knowledge or observation, and not from the student's education records."

Can school officials share their law enforcement unit records?

"Under FERPA, investigative reports and other records created and maintained by these 'law enforcement units' are not considered 'education records' subject to FERPA. Accordingly, schools may disclose information from law enforcement unit records to anyone...."

Post-Threat Public Relations: What can go wrong?

Two students suspended in Henrico

Rumors
Fears
Accusations
Reactions
Cover-up charges
Newspaper editorials

Post-Threat Public Relations: Take charge of the process!

- Immediately contact parents of all students who are involved.
- Safety has priority over confidentiality. Share what is necessary to assure safety.
- Keep faculty and staff informed. They have the need to know.
- Consider sending a general letter of information to address rumors and fears.

Slides by Dewey Cornell, Ph.D.
Workshop participants may copy this handout for others in their school system.
Parent Notification:
Parents of threat victims

- FERPA does not prevent schools from notifying parents that their child has been threatened. In substantive cases, parents should be told the nature of the threat and the identity of the student who made the threat.
- Explain to the parents what steps have been taken to maintain the safety of their child (e.g., student disciplined, parents contacted, police notified) so they can judge what they must do.
- Remain in contact with parents to assure them that the school will maintain the safety of their child.

Parent Notification:
Parents of threat victims

- Build victim notification into the plan for a student’s return to school after making a threat.
- Consider requiring student to make an apology or explanation to the victim.
- Consider requiring student to let you disclose information to the parents of victims.
- Notify parents of a victim when a student is returning to school. Offer them reassurance, even if you cannot disclose confidential information.

Threat Notification:
Information for a general letter

- Acknowledge that a threat was made and describe the nature of the threat. (“Someone called in a bomb threat this morning.”)
- The school is following its policy on threats. The police were contacted and are working with school authorities.
- Steps were taken to assure everyone’s safety. (“The school was searched and no bomb was found. The police are continuing their investigation to identify the person responsible for the call.”)
- Call us if you have any questions or concerns.

Re-entry Planning
Help students return to school

- Consider restorative justice approach that lets student make amends for actions
- Obtain release of information to share consequences and conditions with victims
- Caution against retaliation
- Monitor student’s return

Documentation of Threats

1. Maintain quality of threat evaluation process
2. Document incidents and responses
3. Liability protection
4. Evaluate threat rates and trends

Special Education

Students in special education have a higher threat assessment referral rate.
- About 35% of TA referrals in Virginia
- Students with serious emotional disturbance and ADHD most likely.
- Conditions that can precipitate frustration, anger, and impulsive statements.
- Close observation of these students
Special Education

Students in SPED receiving a TA:
- Do not receive disproportionate disciplinary consequences
- More likely to receive mental health referrals.
- Can be suspended from school, but...

Manifestation Determination

Two criteria for manifestation determination:
1. Determine whether in relation to the behavior, the IEP was being implemented correctly at the time of the threatening behavior.
2. Determine whether the threatening behavior had a direct and substantial relation to the student's disability.

45-Day Placement

The law allows an involuntary interim alternative placement of up to 45 school days, and can be extended by a hearing officer, if a student is found to be dangerous by a preponderance of the evidence. Dangerousness is demonstrated if the student carried a weapon to school, engaged in a controlled substance offense, or an offense involving serious bodily injury.

Special Education

If a student in SPED accrues more than 10 days in suspension in school year, it is considered a change in placement.

Parents can agree to a change in placement or one can be mandated if supported by a manifestation determination made by the Individualized Education Program (IEP) team.

Manifestation Determination

If the criteria are not met, a change in placement without parental permission is not permitted. The IEP should be revised so that the placement can continue.

However, if the school administration concludes that it is not safe for a student to remain in the current placement...

Group Exercise

- 3 case examples for your team
- Review first case and complete one copy of the form as a team
- One team rep will present your conclusions to the whole group
- Same with cases 2 and 3
- After the 3 cases, we will have a brief final session on implementation.
Implementing a Threat Assessment Approach

1. Educate your staff.
2. Select and train your team.
3. Update student code of conduct.
4. Inform students and parents.

Adult Threat Assessment

About 2% of Virginia threat cases
- Angry parents
- Employee disputes
- Intimate partner violence
- Adults with severe mental illness

Adult Threat Assessment

- Principles of threat assessment apply to adult cases.
- Similar risk factors
- Schools lack leverage and resources they have for students.
- In substantive cases, greater reliance on law enforcement and legal actions such as protective orders.

Adult Threat Assessment

Transient threats (such as an impulsive statement during an argument)
- Give adult opportunity to clarify, retract, and apologize.
- Treat adult with respect and consider how conflict can be de-escalated.

Adult Threat Assessment

Substantive threats (such as intimate partner violence)
- Avoid actions that escalate conflict
- Increase vigilance
- Consult law enforcement
- Consider protective orders and no trespass orders.

The Virginia Youth Violence Project is an ongoing research program focused on the role of violence and criminal behavior in the lives of Virginia Adolescents. The project examines the impact of violence on school functioning, and explores the role of school as a protective factor. The project also provides training and technical assistance in the areas of school-based assessment, bullying, and mental health.

INTERVIEW FORM FOR “SERIAL KILLER” ROLE PLAY

When a threat is identified, obtain a specific account of the threat by interviewing the student or other person who made the threat, if appropriate to the circumstances. Interview the intended victims, and other witnesses. Write the exact content of the threat and statements by each party. Consider the circumstances in which the threat was made and the threatening individual’s intentions.

Use these questions as a guide to interview the person making the threat. Ask other questions as appropriate. Try to use open-ended questions rather than leading questions. Adjust spacing below as needed.

1. Do you know why I want to talk to you? What happened today when you were [place of incident]? (Record person’s exact words with quotation marks for key statements if possible.)

2. What exactly did you say? And what exactly did you do?

3. What did you mean when you said or did that?

4. How do you think [person who was threatened] feels about what you said or did? (Probe to see if the subject believes it frightened or intimidated the person.)

5. What was the reason you said or did that? (Probe to find out if there is a prior conflict or history to this threat.)

6. What are you going to do now? (Ask questions to determine if the subject intends to carry out the threat.)
Two boys tell you that 8th grade John said he had a list with them and his former girlfriend on it. What do you do next?

You have just received new information. What kind of threat is this and why? What are your next steps?

You have just received new information. What are your next steps?

School Threat Assessment Decision Tree

Step 1. Evaluate the threat.
Obtain a detailed account of the threat, usually by interviewing the person who made the threat, the intended victim, and other witnesses. Write the exact content of the threat and key observations by each party. Consider the circumstances in which the threat was made and the student’s intentions. Is there communication of intent to harm someone or behavior suggesting intent to harm?

- Yes → Not a threat. Might be an expression of anger that merits attention.

- No → Attempt to resolve the threat as transient.

Step 2. Attempt to resolve the threat as transient.
Is the threat an expression of humor, rhetoric, anger, or frustration that can be easily resolved so that there is no intent to harm? Does the person retract the threat or offer an explanation and/or apology that indicates no future intent to harm anyone?

- Yes → Case resolved as transient; add services as needed.

- No → Respond to a substantive threat.

Step 3. Respond to a substantive threat.
For all substantive threats:
- Take precautions to protect potential victims.
- Warn intended victim and parents.
- Look for ways to resolve conflict.
- Discipline student, when appropriate.

Serious means a threat to hit, fight, or beat up whereas very serious means a threat to kill, rape, or cause very serious injury with a weapon.

- Very Serious → Case resolved as serious substantive threat; add services as needed.

Step 4. Conduct a safety evaluation for a very serious substantive threat.
In addition to a-d above, the student may be briefly placed elsewhere or suspended pending completion of the following:
- Screen student for mental health services and counseling; refer as needed.
- Law enforcement investigation for evidence of planning and preparation, criminal activity.
- Develop safety plan that reduces risk and addresses student needs. Plan should include review of Individual Educational Plan if already receiving special education services and further assessment if possible disability.

Threat Assessment Case Exercise 1
Sixth Grade Rivalry

Scenario

Sixth grade boys, Chris and Billy, had been rivals since first grade. Recently their conflicts had become more frequent and more intense. Towards the end of class, Chris overheard Billy talking to a group of girls and referring to him as a "sissy boy." Chris had had enough. He waited for Billy outside class and then went straight up to him and said, "You’ve had it man. I’m gonna kick your ______. Meet me out back after school." Their teacher, Ms. Johnson, overheard the confrontation in the hall and approached the boys. The boys said it was "nothing" but Ms. Johnson was concerned about Chris’s threatening statement and reported the incident to the principal.

The principal, Mr. Stevens, called the boys into his office immediately and met with them one at a time.

Interview with Chris:

Chris entered the room obviously agitated. As the principal asked him about the incident, Chris glared at the floor and answered the principal’s questions abruptly and insincerely. No, he was not arguing with Billy and yes, everything was fine between the two of them. He said he didn’t remember exactly what he said to Billy and that “Ms. Johnson was overreacting.” As Mr. Stevens asked more questions, Chris responded that he was just “sick of Billy’s cocky attitude” and “wished Billy would lay off [him],” but stated again that the incident was “no big deal.” Mr. Stevens asked Chris to wait outside his office while he spoke with Billy.

Interview with Billy:

Billy told quite a different story than Chris. Billy stated that Chris “got in [his] face and threatened to beat [him] up after school.” He said that he didn’t know what Chris’s problem was and that he had been acting “weird... kind of punchy” lately. Billy stated that Chris just “needed to get over himself and leave [him] alone.”

Interview with the teacher:

Ms. Johnson said she heard Chris tell Billy to meet him after school and could testify to the ongoing conflict between the boys. She said that they deliberately sat on opposite sides of the classroom and were often seen trading insults across the room and recruiting others to join in the harassment. Ms. Johnson thought a fight between the boys was inevitable.

Discipline histories:

Both Chris and Billy have a record of multiple detentions for disorderly conduct, tardies, and truancy.
Threat Assessment Case Exercise 2
Harassment between Friends

Scenario

The bell has rung at a local middle school and students are moving throughout the halls changing classes. A student comments to a passing student of Arab descent, “Man, I hate you guys, go back where you came from because we don’t want you here in America. I am going to bomb you back to where you came from.” The Arab student says nothing, but hurries to class where he reports the event to the teacher who informs the principal.

The principal, Ms. Thompson, called the following individuals into her office and interviewed them about the incident.

Interview with Sam (threatened student):
“I was walking down the hall to class when Theo said that I am not wanted in America and that he was going to bomb me back to where I came from. Theo used to be my friend. I felt like saying, ‘I am from America, and proud,’ but I just ran away and told the teacher. I don’t know what to do. I am not afraid of Theo, but I just don’t feel welcome at this school anymore. I am so tired of all of this hate. I am a US citizen and don’t deserve to be treated like this.”

Interview with Theo (student who made the threat):
“Man, I am going to get in trouble for this. I am sorry, I didn’t mean it. I am not going to hurt anybody. I walked by Sam in the hall and just started thinking about everything going on in Afghanistan and got mad and told him to go back to where he came from. I didn’t mean it; he is my friend. I have just been so confused about this whole situation that I want all of the Arabs to just leave America alone.

Theo’s Discipline History: Theo has had detention two times this school year for being tardy. He has also received a discipline referral for excessive talking.

Interview with their teacher:
“Sam came to me on the verge of tears. He said that a friend, Theo, ‘just told him that he wasn’t wanted in America and he was going to bomb him back to where he came from.’ I was shocked. Theo and Sam have always been good friends. Sam has been so worried lately and he is not focusing well in class at all. I am really surprised at Theo. He gets in trouble for talking and sometimes he has a bad temper, but I have never heard Theo say something so hateful.”

Interview with Witness 1:
“Everybody was changing classes and some of us were talking about the terrorist attacks. Theo got mad and all of a sudden and told Sam that ‘he was going to bomb him back to where he came from.’ Then Theo just ran down the hall. Theo and Sam have always been friends. I don’t think Theo meant it; he just got really angry and went off at the mouth. Theo has done it before, but he didn’t mean it.”
Threat Assessment Case Exercise 3
Johnny Threatens his Classmates

Before class, a ninth grade boy reports to his teacher that a friend and fellow classmate of his, Johnny, told him that Friday was the day "some kids were going to die". This boy told the teacher that Johnny has always been talking about a group of popular kids whom he’d like to “get rid of,” and recounted different incidents in which those kids teased or mocked Johnny on the bus and in the locker room at school. The friend told the teacher that Johnny has always been angry with this group of kids, but lately he’s been really fed up. The friend showed the teacher a list of the students Johnny had made in his notebook that had a heavy line drawn through it, and next Friday’s date written across the top. The teacher showed the principal the list and relayed the concerns of Johnny’s friend, and the principal began evaluating the threat. The principal called the following people into his office to assess the situation:

Interview with Johnny’s Teacher:
“Johnny has never been a discipline problem in my classroom. I’ve noticed that he often sits alone and appears to be on the outside of the popular students in class. I also noticed that two students in my class were on Johnny’s list of students with a line through it. Last semester I saw these two students teasing Johnny before class. I broke it up and spoke to the two boys afterwards and I haven’t noticed anything since.”

Interview with Johnny:
“Why did I get called down here, I didn’t do anything wrong. Why are you looking at my notebook? You’re not allowed to search my things, that’s against the law. Yeah I made that list but it don’t mean nothing. I don’t know why I drew a line through those names. I just don’t like those kids, that’s all. No, they don’t tease me. I just don’t like them. Why do you have to call my parents? I didn’t do anything.”

Observations of Johnny: Johnny appeared anxious from the start. He was very worried when the notebook was opened. When the issue of teasing was brought up he became quiet and denied any violent intentions.

Johnny’s Discipline History: Johnny has two fights on his record from the previous year. Upon further investigation it was noted that each fight was with another boy whose name appeared on the list in Johnny’s notebook. There was a meeting held after last semester regarding Johnny’s declining grades attended by Johnny’s math teacher, guidance counselor, assistant principal, and both of his parents. They appeared concerned about Johnny’s grades and reports of him being teased by other students. The school staff were unaware that bullying was going on and agreed to increase monitoring of these students.

Interview with Witness 1:
“I told my teacher about the things Johnny has been saying because I think he’s been acting funny lately. At first I thought he was just kidding, but he’s talked about it a bunch of times. Yeah, he’s been getting picked on for awhile. Mainly on the bus and in the locker room. Johnny tried to fight back a couple of times, except now I think he tries to ignore them, but it doesn’t really work. He’s afraid to tell on them because he thinks they might gang up on him sometime when no teachers are around. I just don’t want something really bad to happen at our school.”

Interview with Johnny’s Mother:
“I cannot believe my son would do something like this. Believe me he will be grounded when he gets home. I do not think it is necessary for him to talk to a psychologist, and he definitely does not need to be suspended. After all, it’s really the school’s fault. At that meeting last semester he told you that he was being bullied and you didn’t do anything about it because obviously, he’s still being bullied. I don’t blame him for being angry and saying those things. He was just talking out of frustration. We all know that he would never hurt anyone.”

Interview with Victim’s Father:
“I am surprised that my son was involved in any bullying and he should be disciplined for that. But the real concern is with Johnny. That boy made some serious threats against my kid and you better not tolerate that behavior in this school. I would expect that he will be expelled so my son doesn’t have to spend the rest of his school career looking over his shoulder.”
Bullying Assessment Flow Chart

Interview all students involved in the incident.
For use by school administrators and staff. “What happened between you two?” “How did it start?” “Did you tell him/her to stop?” “Is there anything you did that might have contributed to this happening?”

Was this possibly a crime?
Was there physical contact or injury, use of a weapon, serious threat of injury, stalking, kidnapping or detainment, loss of property, or damage to property?

Yes
Contact law enforcement.
Let the SRO investigate and decide whether a crime has occurred.
Notify parents.
Let parents of the targeted student know that you have contacted the SRO or other law enforcement.

No

Was there aggression?
Physical aggression such as hitting, shoving or threatening injury; verbal aggression such as teasing or name-calling; social aggression such as spreading rumors and shunning.

No
Not bullying
Consider another infraction.

Yes

Was there dominance?
Was the aggressor stronger or dominant over the other? Was one side outnumbered?

No
Not bullying
Could be a fight or some other infraction.

Yes

Was there persistence?
Was there more than one incident or did the aggressor fail to stop when asked? Look for evidence of a repeated problem.

No
Not bullying
Consider another infraction. Would be bullying if behavior continues.

Yes

Respond to bullying.
1. Discipline aggressor for bullying, based on the seriousness and persistence of the behavior, in accordance with the school division’s policy and student code of conduct.
2. Educate and counsel all students, including bystanders, about bullying.
3. Suggest that the aggressor apologize and promise not to do it again.
4. Ask all students, “What could you do that would keep this from happening again?”
5. Ask all students, “Would you let me know if anything like this happens again?”
6. Monitor and follow-up to make sure that bullying does not recur.
Model Regulations for Conducting a Threat Assessment

I. PURPOSE
To establish procedures for conducting threat assessments in response to student threats of violence.

II. DEFINITIONS
A. A threat is an expression of intent to harm someone that may be spoken, written, or gestured. An expression of intent to harm someone is considered a threat regardless of whether it is communicated to an actual or prospective victim and regardless of whether the actual or prospective victim is aware the threat existing in any fashion, whether orally, visually, in writing, or electronically. A threat assessment is a procedure to identify potentially dangerous or violent situations and resolve them.

B. A transient threat is a threat that does not express a lasting intent to harm someone. A threat is transient only if it can be quickly and easily resolved and no longer exists.

C. A serious substantive threat is a threat that expresses a continuing intent to assault someone.

D. A very serious substantive threat is a threat that involves using a weapon or a threat to kill, rape, or inflict severe injury to someone.

III. PROCEDURES
A. A threat assessment may be conducted if a student makes an explicit or implicit threat, or if the student’s behavior indicates that a threat is reasonably likely. The goal of the threat assessment is to provide assistance to the student being assessed, to support victims or potential victims, and to take appropriate preventive or corrective measures to maintain a safe and secure school environment. A threat assessment is not a disciplinary action, and is not a prerequisite to disciplinary action. Documents completed as part of a threat assessment may or may not be used in a disciplinary proceeding.

B. Student threats shall be reported to the school administrator (principal, assistant principal, or principal designee) if they cannot be easily and readily resolved by other staff. Criteria for reporting threats should include the age of the child and the context of the threat or remark.

C. The student who communicated the threat, the recipient(s) of the threat, and witnesses shall be interviewed to obtain specific information regarding the threat, in accordance with the Threat Assessment Guidelines. The Guidelines can be found at <address>

D. When a threat is reported to the school administrator, the administrator makes a preliminary determination of the seriousness of the threat. If it can be determined that the threat is a transient threat and has been resolved, the Threat Assessment Documentation may be completed at the administrator’s discretion. If the threat has not been resolved, the Threat Assessment Documentation and Threat Assessment and Response Summary Sheet forms shall be completed.

E. In every instance in which a threat against a student is not immediately resolved, the school administrator shall notify the parent/guardian of the student who made the threat. The school administrator shall also notify any identifiable victims or targets of the threat. If the target is a student or students, the parent/guardians shall also be notified. If the threat is not specific about the identity of the victim(s), the school administrator shall make a determination based on the circumstances of the threat whether it is appropriate to communicate to a more general notification to potential victims, such as in the form of a letter to parent/guardians. In most cases, such a letter would be appropriate to address questions and concerns that might be disruptive to learning and to solicit information that would be relevant to resolving the threat.

F. Threat assessment and disciplinary procedures are separate processes. Regardless of whether a threat is determined to be transient, serious substantive, or very serious substantive, appropriate disciplinary procedures shall be followed.

G. If the threat is determined to be serious substantive or very serious substantive, the Threat Assessment Documentation and Threat Assessment and Response Summary Sheet forms and other relevant documents regarding the threat shall be maintained in the cumulative file of the student’s scholastic record. If the threat is determined to be transient and the forms were completed, they may be maintained in the student’s scholastic record at the administrator’s discretion.

For more information, contact the University of Virginia Youth Violence Project <http://youthviolence.edschool.Virginia.edu> or email <youthvio@virginia.edu>
A threat is a communication of intent to harm someone that may be spoken, written, gestured, or expressed in some other form, such as via text messaging, email, or other digital means. An expression of intent to harm someone is considered a threat regardless of whether it is communicated to the intended target(s) and regardless of whether the intended target is aware of the threat. Threats may be implied by behavior that an observer would reasonably regard as threatening, planning, or preparing to commit a violent act. When in doubt, treat the communication or behavior as a threat and conduct a threat assessment. Threats that are not easily recognized as harmless (e.g., an obvious joke that worries no one) should be reported to the school administrator or other team members. The administrator or another team member makes a preliminary determination of the seriousness of the threat. The student, targets of the threat, and other witnesses should be interviewed to obtain information using this protocol. A transient threat means there is no sustained intent to harm and a substantive threat means the intent is present (or not clear) and therefore requires protective action. This form is a guide for conducting a threat assessment, but each case may have unique features that require some modification.

A threat assessment is not a crisis response. If there is indication that violence is imminent (e.g., a person has a firearm at school or is on the way to school to attack someone), a crisis response is appropriate. Take immediate action such as calling 911 and follow the school crisis response plan.

School Threat Assessment Decision Tree

Step 1. Evaluate the threat.
Obtain a detailed account of the threat, usually by interviewing the person who made the threat, the intended victim, and other witnesses. Write the exact content of the threat and key observations by each party. Consider the circumstances in which the threat was made and the student’s intentions. Is there communication of intent to harm someone or behavior suggesting intent to harm?

- No
  - Not a threat. Might be an expression of anger that merits attention.

- Yes
  - Proceed to Step 2.

Step 2. Attempt to resolve the threat as transient.
Is the threat an expression of humor, rhetoric, anger, or frustration that can be easily resolved so that there is no intent to harm? Does the person retract the threat or offer an explanation and/or apology that indicates no future intent to harm anyone?

- Yes
  - Case resolved as transient; add services as needed.

- No
  - Proceed to Step 3.

Step 3. Respond to a substantive threat.
For all substantive threats:
- Take precautions to protect potential victims.
- Warn intended victim and parents.
- Look for ways to resolve conflict.
- Discipline student, when appropriate.

Serious means a threat to hit, fight, or beat up whereas very serious means a threat to kill, rape, or cause very serious injury with a weapon.

- Very Serious
  - Case resolved as serious substantive threat; add services as needed.

Step 4. Conduct a safety evaluation for a very serious substantive threat.
In addition to a-d above, the student may be briefly placed elsewhere or suspended pending completion of the following:
- Screen student for mental health services and counseling; refer as needed.
- Law enforcement investigation for evidence of planning and preparation, criminal activity.
- Develop safety plan that reduces risk and addresses student needs. Plan should include review of Individual Educational Plan if already receiving special education services and further assessment if possible disability.

Step 5. Implement and monitor the safety plan.
Document the plan.
Maintain contact with the student.
Monitor whether plan is working and revise as needed.

This 5-step decision tree is a revision of the original 7-step decision tree for the Virginia Student Threat Assessment Guidelines that retains the same information and procedures in a more condensed format.
THREAT REPORT

A threat is an expression of intent to harm someone that may be spoken, written, gestured, or communicated in some other form, such as via text message or email. Threats may be explicit or implied, directed at the intended target or communicated to a third party. Behavior that suggests a threat such as weapon carrying, fighting, or menacing actions should be investigated to determine whether a threat is present.

The process is designed for assessment of threats to harm others and is not intended for individuals who have only threatened to harm themselves. Only a small percentage of cases require both threat assessment and suicide assessment, and in those cases, the team should supplement this form with their choice of a standard suicide assessment protocol.

INTERVIEWS

When a threat is identified, obtain a specific account of the threat by interviewing the student or other person who made the threat, if appropriate to the circumstances. Interview the intended victims, and other witnesses. Write the exact content of the threat and statements by each party. Consider the circumstances in which the threat was made and the threatening individual’s intentions.

Subject: Person who made threat or engaged in threatening behavior

<thead>
<tr>

Use these questions as a guide to interview the person making the threat. Ask other questions as appropriate. Try to use open-ended questions rather than leading questions. Adjust spacing below as needed.

1. Do you know why I want to talk to you? What happened today when you were [place of incident]? (Record person’s exact words with quotation marks for key statements if possible.)

2. What exactly did you say? And what exactly did you do?

3. What did you mean when you said or did that?

4. How do you think [person who was threatened] feels about what you said or did? (Probe to see if the subject believes it frightened or intimidated the person.)

5. What was the reason you said or did that? (Probe to find out if there is a prior conflict or history to this threat.)

6. What are you going to do now? (Ask questions to determine if the subject intends to carry out the threat.)
Target (person who was target of threat) or Witness (person with relevant information)

If more than one, complete additional forms. If a group targeted, describe how subject identified the group (e.g., “everyone on this bus”) and list all individuals.

Use these questions as a guide to interview the person targeted by the threat. Ask other questions as appropriate. Try to use open-ended questions rather than leading questions. If target is a minor, record parent under emergency contact. Adjust spacing below as needed.

1. Do you know why I want to talk to you? What happened today when you were [place of incident]? (Record person’s exact words with quotation marks for key statements if possible.)

2. What exactly did [subject] say? And what exactly did [subject] do?

3. What did you think he or she meant when he or she said or did that? (Does target believe that subject intends to carry out the threat?)

4. How do you feel about what [subject] said or did?

5. What was the reason [subject] said or did that? (Probe to find out if there is a prior conflict or history to this threat.)

6. What are you going to do now? (Ask questions to determine how target plans to respond to the threat and assist in planning a safe and non-provocative response.) What do you think he/she will do now?

MENTAL HEALTH ASSESSMENT
Virginia Student Threat Assessment Guidelines

A mental health assessment is usually conducted in cases involving a very serious substantive threat. The purpose of the mental health assessment is to maintain the safety and well-being of the student and others. Therefore, the assessment has two objectives:

1. Treatment and referral needs. Assess the student’s present mental state and determine whether there are urgent mental health needs that require attention, such as risk of suicide, psychosis, or rage. Beyond these immediate needs, consider whether there are other treatment, referral, or support needs.

2. Threat reduction. Gather information on the student’s motives and intentions in making the threat in order to understand why the threat was made and identify relevant strategies or interventions that have the potential to reduce the risk of violence.

Subject Interview (Person who made threat or engaged in threatening behavior)

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Person(s) Conducting Interview</td>
<td>Location, Date of Interview</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Usually the interview can begin by asking "Do you know why I want to talk to you?" and after the subject has responded, "Let me explain the purpose of our meeting today." Use these questions as a guide to interview the person making the threat. Ask other questions as appropriate. Try to use open-ended questions rather than leading questions. Adjust spacing below as needed.

Review of threat

1. What happened that made others worried that you wanted to harm someone? What exactly did you say or do that made them worried? What did you mean by that?

2. I know you must have had reasons to say (or do) that; can you explain what led up to it?

3. How would you do it? (carry out the threat) (Probe for details of any planning or preparation.) Where did the idea come from?

4. What could happen that would make you want to do it? (carry out the threat)

5. What would happen if you did do it? (review both effects on intended victims and consequences for student)

6. What do you think the school should do in a situation in which a person makes a threat like this?

7. What were you feeling then? How do you feel now?

8. How do you think (the person threatened) felt?

Relationship with intended victim(s)

1. How long have you known this person?

2. What has happened in the past between you and this person?

3. What do you think this person deserves?

4. Do you see any way that things could be improved between you and this person?

7. Have you been involved in any counseling?
Mood

1. What has your mood been like the past few weeks? Have you felt down or depressed at times? How bad has it been? (Be alert for statements of pessimism and hopelessness that might indicate suicide risk. If there are indications of suicidal thoughts or feelings, there should be a more extensive evaluation of suicide risk. If necessary, develop a plan for protecting the student and making appropriate referrals.)

2. Have you felt nervous or anxious? Irritable or short-tempered? How bad has it been?

3. Have you ever felt like life wasn't worth living? Like maybe you would kill yourself?

2. Have you felt like someone was out to get you or wanted to harm you? Have you had any other fears that seem strange or out of the ordinary?

3. Do you have any abilities or powers that others do not have, such as ESP or reading minds?

4. Have you felt numb or disconnected from the world, or like you were somehow outside your body?

Note and inquire about any other symptoms of mental disorder.
Weapons
Ask about any weapons mentioned in the threat. As an example, these questions concern a threat made to stab someone.
1. You said that you were going to stab (name of victim). What were you going to stab him with?
2. Do you have a knife? What kind of a knife is it? (Or, how would you get a knife?)
3. Have you ever had to use a knife with someone? What happened?
4. What do you think would happen if you did use a knife with (name of victim)?

Bullying
Bullying is broadly defined and may include teasing, social exclusion, or other forms of humiliation in addition to physical threats of violence. The student may not use the term “bully,” and may be reluctant to admit being the victim of bullying behavior, so be prepared to rephrase questions and probe for victim experiences.
1. Is there anyone who has threatened you recently? Is there anyone who makes you feel afraid? (Ask about sexual threats if appropriate to situation.)

2. Is there anyone who has teased you or picked on you recently? Is there anyone who has beat you up or pushed you around? How about at home?

In response to any positive answer, follow up for more information: How often does it happen? What have you tried to do about it? Did you let any adult know about this, and if so, what happened? Understandably, parents may feel apprehensive, guilty, or defensive when being interviewed about their child’s behavior. It is important that the interviewer find ways to convey respect for the parent, starting from the initial contact and throughout the interview. Also, it should be evident that the interviewer is interested in understanding and helping the parent’s child; otherwise, the parent may regard the interview as an investigation designed to uncover evidence of wrongdoing by the student or incompetence by the parent. Identifying Information

Give the student’s name, gender, age, grade, school, and other relevant identifying information.

Reason for Referral

State that this evaluation was requested by the school principal because the student made a threat of violence that was judged to be a very serious, substantive threat. Describe the threat, including the exact statement or threatening behavior, and where and when it took place.

Sources of Information

Describe or list the sources of information used in this report, including information from team interviews with the student, witnesses, and parents, as well as any relevant records or psychological tests.

Major Findings

Describe how the child presented and any important aspects of his or her mental state, including any indications or markers of mental disorder requiring further evaluation or referral. Identify any stresses, conflicts, or unmet needs that affect the child’s functioning or bear on the threat incident.

Review the child’s understanding of the threat and its meaning from his or her perspective. Note whether the child has a history of violent or aggressive behavior, and any findings from the assessment that raise concerns about the child’s potential for violence, such as access to firearms, peer encouragement to fight, drug use, or inadequate home supervision.

Conclusions

In general, the mental health professional should not be expected to make a definitive statement that a child is or is not dangerous; such statements go beyond current knowledge in the field of risk assessment. The report may identify risk factors and protective factors, and express concerns where there appear to be compelling risk factors.

The report should present recommendations aimed at reducing the risk of violence, and they might convey the degree of concern about the potential for violence in general terms, recognizing that a precise measure of risk is not feasible. In all cases, the goal is to reduce the risk of violence rather than to predict violence.

Recommendations may include a wide range of strategies, but should address both any immediate safety needs to protect potential victims and broader efforts to resolve conflicts or problems that precipitated the threat.

There are two basic types of recommendations. First are recommendations for school behavior support, which are actions to be taken at school. The report should identify any signs of disability that would indicate the need for further assessment, child study, or special education evaluation. Second, if appropriate, the report may propose other recommendations for the parents to consider implementing outside of school, such as seeking community-based services for their child.
