THE A.I. ROADMAP: HUMAN LEARNING IN THE AGE OF SMART MACHINES

DECEMBER 10, 2024

9:30 - 11:00 AM (SIGN-IN AT 9:00 AM)

Presenter: Dr. John Spencer, author and national speaker

With the A.I. revolution here, schools are scrambling with how to respond. Nobody knows exactly how machine learning will change teaching and learning, but we do know that educators will need to be adaptable to face the changes, while students will need to develop deeply human skills in order to navigate within a world of machines. In this session, learn from Dr. Spencer about how to create a roadmap to traverse the changing A.I. terrain and avoid pitfalls of techno-futurism.

DEFINING AND ADVANCING STUDENT SUCCESS SYSTEMS

February 26, 2025

11:30 AM - 1:00 PM (VIRTUAL via ZOOM)

Presenter: Robert Balfanz, Ph.D., Director of the Everyone Graduates Center, Johns Hopkins University

Dr. Robert Balfanz is a distinguished professor at the Johns Hopkins University School of Education, co-director of the Center for Social Organization of Schools, and Director of the Everyone Graduates Center. In this session, he will share how high-quality student success systems can be transformative if they are inclusive, fueled by strong relationships, guided by improvement science, and shaped by student mindsets. They are a way to organize a school community to better support academic progress, career and college transitions, and the well-being of all students.
