

Third Annual Math Symposium

Belonging in Action: The Thinking Classroom Experience

Join Bob Glavan, James “Ike” Holzapfel, Alexis Volk, and Maureen Wolfe for a full-day, in-person learning experience centered on Building Thinking Classrooms.

Explore how to move beyond “doing” math to creating spaces where students truly think, collaborate, and belong. Through interactive tasks, practical tools, and classroom-ready strategies, participants will experience the Building Thinking Classrooms framework in action.

Collaborate with colleagues, reflect on your own practice and district math resource, and leave with concrete ways to strengthen mathematical thinking and belonging in every classroom.
