Big Numbers, Big Plans!
20,000 jobs over the next decade
$3 billion in economic development
$265 million from state agencies

THE CLEVELAND INNOVATION DISTRICT

"The Cleveland Clinic, MetroHealth System, University Hospitals, Cleveland State University and Case Western Reserve University pledge to work in partnership to bring jobs to Cleveland with partial support from hundreds of millions of dollars from state agencies like JobsOhio."

Hear from a panel of professionals who are a part of the team to implement this bold plan.

Dr. James Young MD, Executive Director of Academic Affairs, Cleveland Clinic Professor of Medicine and Vice Dean for Academic Affairs, Cleveland Clinic Learner College of Medicine

Julie Jacono, Senior Vice President and Chief Strategies, MetroHealth System

Jonathan D. Wehner, Vice President and Dean Admissions, Cleveland State University

The 20,000 jobs goal will capitalize on Cleveland's already well-known medical research and IT success including research in infectious diseases and will encourage startups and companies to invest in creating jobs in our area.

How can our schools prepare to develop pathways for the expected creation of these jobs and support service jobs?
