

Google Across the Content Areas

October 13, 2017

Presented by: Stephanie DeMichele,
Instructional Technology Consultant, ESC-CC

In spite of the most recent educational technology advancements, we as educators still show a need for improvement when it comes to truly embedding technology into our daily instructional practices. If you're currently using Google apps in your classroom but want to learn how to specifically apply them to your individual content area, then this is the workshop for you. We will explore tried and successful innovative practices used by other educators, and participants will leave these workshops with practical ways to seamlessly and immediately unite G-Suite with their subject matter. (Note: This session is for intermediate and advanced Google users.)
