Space is limited!

Have you said that more than once?
When drawing a simple circle or straight lines, do they seem all wrong?
Are your pictures populated with stick figures?

Participate in this “just for fun” workshop with an artist who will explain simple step-by-step techniques and practices to bring out the artist in everyone.

No background or prior experience in drawing or art is necessary. Bring your own sketch book or drawing paper; other materials will be provided.

Presenter: Camille Tulcewicz

Camille is an artist and high school art instructor, who has taught adults drawing and other artistic media in a variety of formal and informal settings in schools and community centers. In this beginner workshop, she will provide participants with a variety of simple drawing techniques to improve confidence in our innate artistic abilities. Join the workshop just for fun, and find your inner artist!!
