Monday, April 24, 2017

9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Sign-in begins at 8:30 a.m.

As teachers we need to expand our expertise to understand how to teach a full spectrum of children. With increased emphasis on differentiated learning and the universal design for learning, professionals in early care and learning programs are stretching to meet the needs of all children.

These two sessions are designed to help you to provide care and best educational practices for all children, embed practices in everyday routines and play, and learn how to truly meet the needs for all children in your care in the most natural of ways! Best practices and evidence based results are discussed.
