Learning from Leaders Series: Redefining Leadership and Learning for the 21st Century

The 9th Annual leadership series, Learning from Leaders: Redefining Leadership and Learning for 21st Century Success, explores bold strategies to prepare students for lifelong success. Session One focuses on aligning education with career technical pathways to equip learners with in-demand skills. Session Two centers on discovering your “why” and driving meaningful college and career readiness efforts. Session Three introduces innovative business models for delivering wrap-around services that support the whole child. The final session emphasizes the power of relationships and collective action – highlighting how trust, collaboration, and shared vision fuel sustainable progress. Each session also offers valuable networking opportunities for leaders to connect and grow together.
