Christina Henagen-Peer

Christina Henagen-Peer, partner, Walter I Haverfield, focuses her practice on the representation of public school districts. She counsels boards of education on numerous student-related matters including student discipline, student privacy, First Amendment issues and residency/custody disputes. Christina is a member of the Ohio State Bar Association and the Ohio School Boards Association. She chaired the Executive Committee of the Ohio Council of School Board Attorneys in 2014 and served on the Executive Committee for eight years. In addition, Christina was an adjunct professor at Case Western Reserve University School of Law, where she taught a course on disability laws.
