LEVERAGING THE MASTER SCHEDULE

The master schedule is more than a logistical tool – it's a lever for belonging and instructional coherence. In this session, leaders will learn how to move beyond “fitting things in” to intentionally designing schedules that reflect a school's values, priorities, and commitment to the success of ALL students.

Join K–12 principals, assistant principals, and district leaders for an engaging professional learning session designed to help you:

- See how the master schedule shapes belonging, access, and opportunity
- Align scheduling decisions with your building goals and student needs
- Design structures that prioritize collaboration and meaningful student experiences

Join us for learning and calibration in the morning from 9:00 AM – 12:00 PM. If your team would like to stay for lunch followed by team planning time and networking with other districts in the afternoon, please indicate that in your registration and we will include lunch.
