Business Partnerships in Northeast Ohio Educators Mean Business

Educators representing elementary to higher education recognize the unique opportunities available in Northeast Ohio to partner with business leaders from small organizations to fortune 500 companies in developing timely career pathways for a global education and global markets. Meet a panel of experts who will share with you how they are developing these partnerships to the benefit of students and employers.

Featured panelists include:

- Dr. William Hiller: Former Executive Director of the Martha Holden Jennings Foundation, currently Executive-in-Residence at Lakeland Community College
- Joseph Spiccia: Superintendent of Wickliffe City School District
- Julie Ramos: Director of Strategic Innovation, Wickliffe City School District
- Desiree Caliguire-Maier: District-Wide Coordinator of Business/Community Partnerships and Enrichment Programming, Cleveland Heights-University Heights City School District.

Rachel Abbey McCafferty of Crain's Cleveland Business will be the moderator.
It is an event you will not want to miss!

Welcome to the newly formed NorthCoast Business Advisory Network (NCBAN) of the Educational Service Center of Cuyahoga County.

This network of school administrators and business professionals will convene quarterly to share pertinent, timely information about employment and educational opportunities in the Northeast Ohio region.

Membership is FREE - It will be very informative and also fulfill the state mandate that requires school districts to participate in a business advisory council.
