This three-day series will help attendees increase instructional time and establish effective classroom learning environments as they learn to align their classroom procedures to their school-wide expectations. Participants will learn eight effective classroom practices:

- Classroom expectations
- Classroom procedures and routines
- Encouraging expected behavior
- Discouraging inappropriate behavior
- Active supervision
- Opportunities to respond
- Activity sequencing and choice
- Task difficulty

In addition to the above modules, attendees will discuss improving relationships and culture with their students, build an awareness of Trauma-informed Instruction strategies, as well as gain a basic understanding of functional behavior assessments and behavior intervention plans.

Audience: Teachers, Building Leaders, and other personnel that work with students in a classroom setting, and they are interested in improving classroom and building culture. Additionally, this session is for school personnel who are interested in building relationships with students.

REGISTRATION is done through Zoom and you must register for each session separately.
